

BRENDA LEBSACK

Orange County Teacher/Parent

I was born and raised in Orange County, earned my Bachelor's Degree from California State University, Fullerton, and my Teaching Credential and Master's Degree in Special Education from Chapman University. My husband of 31 years, Mark, is a college professor and pastor. We are the proud parents of two children, one a graduate of the Orange Unified School District.

My professional background includes:

- Teaching at the elementary, middle, and high school levels;
- Peace officer in the Orange County Juvenile Probation Department;
- Special education and general education teacher;
- Children's Church Ministry Director.

I am running to make the Orange Unified School District one of the best school districts in Orange County. It's crucial to represent all residents of our district and focus on improving the quality of education in every school.

Once elected to the Orange Unified School District Board, I will:

- Make student-centered decisions;
- Fight to update, improve, and maintain all schools;
- Improve STEM programs;
- Work with parents making them educational partners;
- Increase vocational education opportunities for students.

Seeking endorsements from politicians isn't important to me. My singular focus is improving the quality of education in all Orange Unified School District schools for the betterment of students and their future.

It would be my honor to have your vote and I will be an advocate for students, parents, and taxpayers.
