Consumer Protection Attorney

DEMOCRATIC

AGE: 44

As a Consumer Protection Attorney, I know what it means to fight. I've spent decades taking on the big banks that hurt middle-class families – and winning.

I'm running for Congress to take on the powerful special interests in Washington on behalf of Orange County families.

I am a UC Irvine Law Professor, middle-class mother of three, and consumer advocate with a track record of delivering for hard-working Californians - including securing over $18 billion for families that were cheated by Wall Street.

I'm going to Washington to hold powerful special interests accountable, fight for Medicare for All, and protect a woman's right to choose.

As a working mother, I understand how hard it is to make ends meet. That's why I will fight to overturn the tax plan that slashes Medicare and raises taxes on middle-class families, and instead pass real tax reform that makes wealthy corporations pay their fair share and cuts taxes for the middle-class and small businesses.

I believe that affordable health care is a human right. I will work towards a Medicare for All approach in which every American has access to affordable, quality health insurance.

And I believe that women's health care and birth control shouldn't be a luxury, so I will fight any efforts to defund Planned Parenthood, restrict access to birth control, or ban a woman's right to choose.

The 45th District deserves a Congresswoman who will stand up for families, not special interests. Thank for your support.
